Attendance Update

First some good news. I wrote to you at the start of the year explaining that our attendance is the lowest of almost all the schools in our area. I know many of you were shocked by this and I thank you for your support. Pleasingly, we have seen an improvement at the start of this new school year and whole school attendance for September was slightly above our target of 95%. This is a great start to the new school year.

A question that I am often asked is why are teachers always talking about attendance? Why is it so important?

Well the answer is simple. Good attendance leads to good learning and a more successful future. The table below (produced by the Government) shows this very clearly. Please take a moment to look at it closely.

What does it show?

- If your child misses no more than 4% of lessons they have an 82% likelihood of obtaining a level 4 (the expected level) at the end of Year 6,
- If their attendance drops to between 90% and 80% (18 to 37 days off in a year) then they have just a 58% chance of achieving the expected Level 4,
- If attendance drops to less than 80% then they have just a 40% chance of obtaining a Level 4 - that is less than half of that for children with good attendance! A huge difference.

It is therefore vital that all children have good attendance every year that they are at Blakesley Hall as this will affect their chances of achieving Level 4 and being properly ready for Secondary School.

The statistics also show that achieving Level 4 will have a big impact on how well children do in their GCSEs. Most shockingly of all Government statistics show that there is a clear link between low attendance at school and the chances of becoming involved in crime.

I hope that you find this both informative and interesting and now understand why teachers are always talking about attendance.

In the coming weeks I will send you all a copy of our updated attendance policy. If you are concerned about your child's attendance and would like to discuss it further, please contact myself or Ms Bailey, our new Attendance Officer, at school.
